POLITICAL.

"The Globe".

We invite attention to the following Prospectus. The various publications alluded to are invaluable to the politician, the jurist, and the statesman; and they come at such a moderate price as to be within the reach of all who take an interest in the proceedings of the Federal Government, or are anxious to know the current events of the day.

THE GLOBE.

A Congressional, Agricultural, and Literary Newspaper.

The undersigned submits to the public his proposals for the GLOBE and its reports for the next session of Congress. Congress has now so liberally patronized the undertaking that it will be established as a standard work worthy of its official imprimatur, unless the undersigned fails in his duty. This will not be the case if earnest effort can avail. The GLOBE is the only paper that will furnish full reports of the proceedings and debates of the two Houses of Congress; and having received their sanction as such, the best Reporters will be engaged to write out the debates of each day, which will undergo the revision of the Members. The work, after passing through the DAILY GLOBE and receiving correction will be presented, as finished, in the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX.

The debates will probably increase in interest during the next session. The one subject which engrossed the last, will doubtless give way to others of great variety which, in this progressive country, the conflicts of party and the ambition for place and distinction, necessarily produce. Vast interests will be at stake upon the decisions of the next Congress; which will be evoked in their discussion. All the honors of the Republic, dependent on the succession to the Presidency, as well as all the great and permanent interests which go to the advancement of the power of the country, will give impulse to the action of the next session of Congress.

The DAILY GLOBE will be published daily during the session of Congress, and weekly the remainder of the year. It will contain full and faithful reports of the proceedings of both Houses of Congress; and miscellaneous articles on those general subjects to which it is devoted.

The WEEKLY GLOBE will contain Agricultural and miscellaneous articles; and will occasionally give debates of such importance as command universal interest.

The price of the WEEKLY GLOBE is reduced to one dollar, with a view to obtain a more general circulation.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE will embody, as it has done for the last seventeen years, Congressional proceedings and debates exclusively.

The APPENDIX will embrace the revised speeches separately, and the messages of the President of the United States and the reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX will be published as fast as the proceedings of Congress will make a number. Subscribers may expect one number of each a week during the first four weeks of a session, and two or three numbers of each a week afterwards, until the end of the session.

Complete indexes to the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX will be sent to subscribers soon after Congress adjourns.

Nothing of a political party aspect will appear in the GLOBE save that which will be found in the Congressional reports. A paper assuming to be an impartial vehicle for all sides, cannot maintain its character if the editorial columns reflect a party hue.

TERMS.

For one copy of the DAILY GLOBE (daily during the session of Congress, and weekly during the recess) a year, $5 00
For the DAILY GLOBE for less than a year, at the rate of 84 cents a month.
For one copy of the WEEKLY GLOBE for one year, 1 00
For one copy of the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE during the session, 1 50
For one copy of the APPENDIX during the session, 1 50
For four copies of either, or part of both during the session, 5 00
For ten copies of either, or part of both during the session, 10 00

The prices for these papers are so low, that advance payments are indispensable to carry them on, and no order will be attended to unless the money accompanies it.

Subscriptions may be remitted by mail, at our risk, in money at par in the section of the country where subscribers reside.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX, or the DAILY GLOBE, as they may elect, will be sent to all editors who may publish the Prospectus as often as three times before the first Monday in December, and send us one copy of their paper containing it distinctly marked a round with a pen to direct our attention to it.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 15, 1850.

From the Raleigh Standard.

Sketches of North Carolina.—We invite the attention of every citizen of the State to Col. Wheeler's Prospectus, in another column, of his "Sketches of North Carolina." This is a work which every son of the good old State ought to be proud to welcome to his library. It will contain much valuable and hitherto unpublished matter; and from our knowledge of what it is expected to embrace, we have no hesitation in saying that it must throw no small degree of light upon the early history of the State, especially that of the Revolution and the period immediately preceding that grand event.

Col. Wheeler deserves the thanks of the people of the State for his disinterested labors in this department. His book will be so cheap that every one can afford to subscribe for it. Subscriptions to the work will be received at this office, and forwarded to the author; and we hope our brethren of the Press will generally copy the Prospectus, and act as agents in receiving the names of subscribers in their respective localities.

Sketches of North Carolina.

BEATTIE'S FORD, Lincoln Co., N. C. }
October 25, 1850. }

A WORK will be published by the undersigned this Spring, entitled as above, giving an accurate account of each County in our State, in Alphabetical order, the derivation of its name, date of formation, its Colonial and Revolutionary History, a Biography of its distinguished citizens; an accurate list of its representation in each branch of the General Assembly, its Towns, Rivers, Population, Resources, Products, and Topography.

The undersigned has for many years been collecting and condensing the material for this work. The archives of our own State have been carefully examined, and copious extracts made from its records. He has procured from the offices of the Board of Trade and Plantations in London many valuable documents. Rare and valuable works have been purchased from abroad, touching the early history of our State, and Country, which have never seen the light. He has been kindly aided by gentlemen in different sections by copies of original documents, and faithful traditional statements, highly important and interesting.

He does not aspire to the position of the Historian, but hopes from records and statistical facts to afford materials to other and abler hands for this pleasing and less laborious duty. This work, it is hoped, will be useful as a book of reference to the statesman and scholar, and man of business or leisure. Occasional extracts have been published in the Standard and other papers of this State, over the signature of "Tacitus."

The History of North Carolina is yet to be written. The remark which one of the ablest Historians of the age, (Bancroft,) has been compelled to make, that "so carelessly has the History of North Carolina been written that the name, and merits and end of the first Governor is not known," is a reflection upon us. An examination of the early history of the Counties of North Carolina shows a record of the purest patriotism and indomitable courage. This record is now covered by the dust of age, and unknown by neglect. It is a debt which the present generation owes to the past as well as the future to preserve these memorials; for it often occurs in the history of our race, that facts known to one generation are controverted by the next, and at a succeeding period are considered as doubtful legends, unworthy of historical faith. Our Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, in May, 1775, had almost been an illustration of this truth.

"These are deeds which should not pass away,
And names that must not wither; though the earth
Forgets her empires with a just decay,
The enslavers and the enslaved, their death and birth."

This work will be illustrated with a Map of the State, from latest surveys, and including the new Counties to this date, and sketches in Engravings of some of her beautiful scenery. It will contain about 500 pages, and be furnished at one dollar a copy. Subscriptions will be received and the book furnished at different points of the State.

JNO. H. WHEELER.

P. S. Editors of the different Presses in the State are requested to copy the above. The Press will receive in this work a sketch worthy of its influence and importance. Those Editors who publish the above four successive times, and send a copy of the paper containing the same, will be entitled to receive a copy of the work as a return for such notice.

From the Dollar Newspaper.

The Woman's Rights Convention.—A convention of persons friendly to the elevation of women, was held at Worcester, on Wednesday, 23d. There was a very large number of delegates present. Mrs. Paulina Wright Davis, of Rhode Island, was chosen the President of the body, and Wm. H. Channing, of Boston, and Sarah Tyndale, of Pennsylvania, Vice Presidents. Hannah Darlington and Joseph C. Hathaway acted as Secretaries. The President, on taking the chair, made an eloquent address, in which she expounded the doctrine of human rights at great length, and asserted the perfect equality of the sexes, and their joint right to all the blessings of existence. The address was somewhat more abstract and metaphysical than is usual at such meetings, but was received with applause. Mrs. Lucretia Mott objected to one or two phrases, but approved of the general sentiment and style. The following persons were appointed a Business Committee, to report resolutions and bring appropriate business before the Convention:—Mary A. W. Johnson, of Ohio; Wm. Lloyd Garrison, of Mass; Ernestine L. Rose, of N. Y.; Harriet K. Hunt, of Boston; Lucretia Mott, of Penn.; Lucy Stone, of Mass.; Wm. H. Channing, E. Capron, of R. I.; Abby H. Price, of Mass.; Wm. H. Fish, of Hopedale; Samuel May, Jr., of Boston; Susan Sisan, of R. I.; Anna Parsons, of Mass.; Fred. Douglass, of N. Y.

Letters were read from the following persons, expressing sympathy with the objects and principles of the convention, and some of them giving their views on the subject:—Elizer Wright, of Boston; Esther Ann Lukens, of New Garden, O.; Lucius A. Hine, Esq., of Cincinnati; and Elizabeth Wilson, of Cadiz, Ohio. The business committee, in the course of the various sessions, reported the following resolutions:—

Whereas, The very contracted sphere of action prescribed for Woman, arising from an unjust view of her nature, capacities, and powers, and from the infringement of her just rights, as an equal with man, is highly injurious, to her physical mental and moral development, therefore

Resolved, That we will not cease our earnest endeavors to secure for her political, legal and social equality with man, until her proper sphere is determined, by what alone should determine it, her powers and capacities, strengthened and refined by an education in accordance.

Resolved, "that every human being, of full age, and resident for a proper length of time on the soil of the nation, who is required to obey the law, is entitled to a voice in its enactment; that every such person whose property or labor is taxed for the support of the government, is entitled to a direct share in such government; therefore

Resolved, That women are clearly entitled to the right of suffrage, and to be considered eligible to office, the omission to demand which on their part is a palpable recreancy to duty; and the denial of which is a gross usurpation on the part of man—no longer to be endured—and that every party which claims to represent the humanity, the civilization and the progress of the age, is bound to inscribe on its banners, equality before the law without distinction of sex or color.

Resolved, That civil and political rights acknowledge no sex, and therefore the word "male" should be stricken from every constitution.

These resolutions were discussed with more or less force by Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Price, Mr. Channing, and Wendell Phillips. The aim of the various speeches was to establish the following points:—

1st. That women have the same right to develop their whole nature, as men, and therefore should have the same opportunity.

2d. That all professions and trades, with the rewards of labor, should be made as free to females as they are to males.

3d. That political rights and franchises should not be held as the exclusive possession of one sex.

The proceedings appear to have been conducted with harmony.

Astonishing Yield of Corn.—We clip the following from the list of premiums, &c. awarded at the Lexington, Ky. Fair:

Corn.—Yield, per acre, of 10 acres: premium to Jas. Matson, of Bourbon, certificate to Peter Pean, of Clarke. Nine entries.

The following are the quantities raised by the several persons who contended for the prize:

	bbls.	bush.	qt.
J. Matson,	37	4	1 pr acre
Peter Pean,	37	4	"
S. H. Chew,	27½		"
J. Hutchcraft,	23		"
A. Vanmeter,	21	3½	"
A. Hedges,	21	2	"
E. W. Hockaday,	20		"
B. W. Dudley,	20		"
H. Varnon,	19	3	"

Thirty-seven barrels are equal to one hundred and eighty-five bushels of shelled corn. Consequently Mr. Matson's field has produced the astonishing quantity of 189 bushels and 1 quart per acre, or 1890 bushels and 10 quarts upon ten acres. This surpasses anything we ever heard of in the way of raising corn. Mr. Pean, it will be seen, fell behind Mr. M. only one quart.

Great Discovery.—The cave recently discovered near Madison, is supposed to extend under the greater part of Dove and Iowa counties. An exploring party lately passed five days in examining it. They passed over and among large masses, which proved to be lead ore of fine quality, spreading over an extent of three miles. They found also fine copper ore, and eleven pounds of native silver. Crystals, stalactites, incrustations, &c., were abundant, and there were waterfalls and a lake, which was explored in a canoe, and found to be thirty seven feet deep. [Economist.]

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—Hon. J. H. Harrison, member of Congress, died on Friday, after a lingering illness.

John McDonough died of cholera on Saturday. He was a native of Baltimore, and noted for his miserly habits. His estate is estimated to be worth over ten millions of dollars, which the Picayune says has been left for the benefit of the poor of Baltimore and New Orleans.
